04.05.2021 (updated 06/4/21, removed section on symbolism)

I have recently found myself arguing in the comments section of news articles on Facebook with individuals that are totally brainwashed by the media with regards to “COVID-19.” These people can’t wait to get their magical vaccine to be “saved” from something that, by the government’s own artificially inflated numbers, is still 99.9% “not a problem.” Their attitude is somewhat understandable considering that we only receive one side of the story and it is always based on lies and propaganda meant to engender fear. We never hear any word about all the doctors trying to blow the whistle on this massive fraud or who are trying to warn us of the dangers of the jab or who have found ways to successfully treat the symptoms¹. Such “conspiracy theories” are not allowed on social media or the “news².” Likewise, the algorithms of all web searches have all been adjusted to return only the “approved” propaganda at the top. Given that most searches return tens of millions of results, the chances of coming across unbiased sources are virtually nil. Basically, you are carefully and methodically being programmed.

Welcome to Germany of the 1930s – on steroids, that is.

Why would I dare assert that what we are told by the media are “lies and propaganda?” Quite simply, the truth does not fear the light of day. The truth welcomes debate for it has nothing to hide and nothing to fear. Those creatures who insist upon controlling the narrative, censoring people’s words, and “fact-checking” content are ultimately insecure about their own version of events so they must lock away all dissent. Such digital book burners clearly have something to hide, lest they would welcome a healthy, open debate as opposed to silencing from the shadows.

Fortunately – for me, at least – I seem to have a sixth sense when it comes to detecting BS. “Believe nothing – question everything,” is my motto. Perhaps it is because I have spent over a decade investigating various false flags and I know the signatures of the games “they” love to play. I even predicted this “pandemic” and the year it was set to occur in a book I wrote back in 2017 – along with the inevitable fall of the United States. I knew what COVID was from the very beginning – an overt ploy to put Biden in office. After all, it’s part of the name. CORONAVirus – corona – crown – to bring down the king and install a new one. The truth is always found in the symbolism, as we will later see. However, that was only a tiny part and the true goals are global in scope and much, much worse. Dare I say, even biblical?

But that is only part of the reason for this post.

Quite simply, the time to remain silent is at an end because this literally is the endgame, whether you believe it or not. As such, we must learn to break through the brainwashing and awaken from our slumber. We must accept that those who rule do not have our best interests at heart. We must begin to see that a globalist, elitist cabal are manipulating events from behind the scenes. That latter statement comprises not my words but those of *Time Magazine*³ when they recently brazenly gloated about securing the 2020 election:

“[A] well-funded cabal of powerful people, ranging across industries and ideologies, working together behind the scenes to influence perceptions, change rules and laws, steer media coverage and control the flow of information.” – The Secret History of the Shadow Campaign That Saved the 2020 Election, Time Magazine, 04 Feb 2021

If the aforementioned “cabal” will lie and cheat and outright subvert the Constitution in order to win an election, why would you believe anything with respect to the COVID controversy and associated “scamdemic?”

There are a host of red flags vigorously yet futilely waving with respect to the narrative of the “Corona.” Any one of them, by itself, can be explained away. Taken together, they cannot. It is my hope that, when you see what I see, you will begin to question what we have been told and what we have been sold.

Part 1 - The Faith of the Fallen

I call the devout followers of this unlikely narrative the Cult of COVID. Most of the time, this unwitting band of believers cannot begin to debate an issue nor can they even explain why it is they feel what they feel. They merely reflexively attack. Since they can’t adequately argue their point, they default to ad hominem attacks, which is a standard defense mechanism for anyone that has been brainwashed. They become mindless repeaters, parroting a host of beliefs they have been programmed to accept. They cannot deviate from said talking points because they have effectively outsourced their ability to form an original thought to those in the mendacious media and the goons in government. They do not question. They do not know why they believe what they believe only that that is how it is. Again, it’s not their fault. The defective information has somehow slipped past their Critical Factor – the filter used by the conscious mind to determine what is and what is not truth – and it has become rooted in their minds as undeniable fact, a foundation without which their reality will crumble. They will staunchly defend that truth no matter what. Exorcising such deeply entrenched beliefs from the mind is very hard to do. I’ve been through it many times myself.

The Cult of COVID’s two main defensive points have also been programmed. Adversaries are reflexively labeled either as tinfoil hat-wearing “conspiracy theorists” or simply as those who are not “believers in science.”

And yet, in a way, they are correct. I do not “believe” in science and neither should you. That is patently absurd. Science is not a religion to be blindly worshipped and it sure as hell is never “settled” with a “consensus.” The scientific method is empirical, observable, repeatable, and based on accurate data. It is not political, politically correct, or “democratic” in any way and it certainly does not take sides. The goal of science is to reveal the truth in a world of lies and these revelations are made by asking questions and having an open debate without the inane intrusions of felonious “fact-checkers.”

Those in the Cult of COVID believe the idiocy of wearing simple masks to stop the spread of a virus 1/600th the width of a human hair in total contradiction to the 7 (at least) peer-reviewed studies⁴ in the last decade proving that the wearing of masks does nothing to stop the spread of a virus. It seems to make perfect sense in their minds so they believe it as truth, even though there is no scientific basis for the belief. Yet more evidence of blind cultism. Unfortunately, the wearing of masks is entirely symbolic on multiple levels, which we will discover in a moment.

The Cult of COVID blindly accepts that the CDC miraculously developed procedures to test for COVID when they never actually had any of the virus from which to build their preeminent protocol (yes, it is stated on page 42 of their doc⁵). These followers willfully embrace the CDC using RT-PCR (Reverse Transcription Polymerase Chain Reaction) – a manufacturing technique and not an actual diagnostic tool⁶ – ignorantly believing it to provide a binary test of infection, which itself is quite impossible. It's not like being pregnant. The virus is so small, it has to be amplified to be studied. The amplification takes place via a thermal cycling method whereby a small amount of arbitrary DNA is doubled on each "cycle." By the time they hit 30 cycles, they've got a billion times more material than what they had when they started. Unfortunately, the cycle count cutoff for what is considered "positive" and what is "negative" is a completely arbitrary non-standard number. In some countries and labs, anything over 35 is considered highly inaccurate but some reports have cycle counts as high as 40 to 45 in their unbridled zeal to secure a "positive" result. Labs typically keep this count secret. Estimates for false positives are 80-94%. Look at it like this: if you cut off at 20 cycles, everybody is negative. If you cut off at 50, everybody is positive. It's like constantly moving the goalposts to secure your victory. I mean, if you zoom in far enough on anything, you will find an imperfection. But is it a piece of a virus and will it ever do any harm, especially considering the small amounts? Believe it or not, the physical world requires the good and the bad. For example, we normally walk around carrying good bacteria and bad bacteria and yet both are needed for a healthy body.

It is interesting to note that the late creator of the RT-PCR test, Nobel Prize-winner Dr. Kary Mullis, was against using his test as a diagnostic tool and has even been on record multiple times expressing his utter contempt for a certain doctor that has been at the forefront of the COVID scam. "He doesn't know anything about anything, and I'll say that to his face⁷," Dr. Mullis once said.

And yet, if the CDC did not possess the "quantifiable" virus at the time their procedures were created, what exactly are they detecting? More to the point, what are they testing for and how do they know it is accurate? Arbitrary fragments of DNA? If the CDC had actually isolated the virus at ANY point – and, remember, we have been dealing with this farce for over a year – wouldn't they have tested their detection procedures and updated them accordingly, thereby removing the requisite warning message about not having a quantifiable virus? If we were actually dealing with science here, of course they would. But we aren't dealing with science. We are dealing with the selling of a narrative by any means necessary.

The complete uselessness of using RT-PCR to detect this apparently imaginary virus is even stated at the very top of the aforementioned CDC guide on page 3 where it states⁸, "Positive results are indicative of active infection with SARS-CoV-2 but do not rule out bacterial infection or co-infection with other viruses. The agent detected may not be the definite cause of disease." (emphasis added)

Likewise, when testing for antibodies of a past infection, the same ambiguity applies. When describing what a positive result means, the CDC states⁹, "[T]here is a chance that a positive result means you have antibodies from an infection with a different virus from the same family of viruses (called coronaviruses)." In other words, they could simply be detecting the common cold.

The mendacious media wants you to believe that ALL positive results of COVID-19 are a true and accurate BINARY result – you either have it or you don't. However, EVERY official document on the subject is drenched in a sea of ambiguity.

And why all the lies with death numbers? Why count people who died in car accidents and heart attacks as COVID deaths if this was a real pandemic? Why would the CDC need to mysteriously pad their All-Cause death numbers the very last week of 2020 by over 296,000 just to meet their lauded 315,000 death count they had been building and overtly broadcasting throughout the year¹⁰? Science? No. A fraud, a hoax, and pure BS but certainly not science. We got the first hint of confirmation that this was a fraud back on 27 November 2020 when Johns Hopkins released a study based on CDC numbers that found NO INCREASE IN DEATHS¹¹. The study was summarily taken down within hours but the writer still defends the research within. So much for any chance of peer review on that one.

In May of 2020, the Trump administration announced the creation of Operation Warp Speed to “fast-track” creation of a vaccine (which, as we will later see, was actually 3 months after a vaccine had already been developed). Do you realize that they contracted with a non-government intermediary, Advanced Technologies International, Inc. – literally, a defense contractor (more symbolism) – in order to bypass the regulatory oversight and transparency of traditional federal programs¹²? This means that any information about what they were doing might not be available through public records requests, not even Freedom of Information Act (FOIA) requests. How do you feel about a vaccine being pumped into your body being created in secret with no oversight?

And look at the name they chose for the project – Operation Warp Speed. Anyone find it odd that they would reference a fictional TV show – Star Trek – for such an apparently serious problem? Again, more symbolism.

Now, let's examine the timeline of events. The first human cases of COVID-19 were identified on 12 Dec 2019¹³ in Wuhan, China, with the World Health Organization (WHO) declaring it a Public Health Emergency of International Concern on 30 January 2020. Yet, somehow, amazingly, the first clinical batch of Moderna's magical mRNA vaccine was completed a mere 8 DAYS LATER¹⁴. The first participant was dosed on 16 March 2020. Are they really trying to tell us that they understood how this virus worked and created a “vaccine” that fast? Seriously? Is that even remotely believable?

It gets better.

Moderna's press release from mid-November 2020, where they touted their vaunted 94.5% efficacy, stated the following caveats:

“These risks, uncertainties, and other factors include, among others: the fact that there has never been a commercial product utilizing mRNA technology approved for use; the fact that the rapid response technology in use by Moderna is still being developed and implemented; the fact that the safety and efficacy of mRNA-1273 has not yet been established...”

That's right, folks. The “efficacy of mRNA-1273 has not yet been established,” and yet, at the very top of the very same press release, they were bragging about a 94.5% efficacy!

Nothing to see here. Move along.

But there's more.

Moderna's fact sheet for providers states the following:

"Although limited scientific information is available, based on the totality of the scientific evidence available to date, it is reasonable to believe that the Moderna COVID-19 Vaccine may be effective for the prevention of COVID-19 in individuals as specified in the Full EUA Prescribing Information¹⁵."

Umm, it is "reasonable to believe" the vaccine "may be effective?" Again, are we talking about raw science or wishful thinking? They are claiming 94.5% efficacy, for Christ's sake! It's like GM trying to sell you a new car and saying it is reasonable to believe that it might run. Would you rush out and buy it? Again, more proof of a cult.

The New England Journal of Medicine, when discussing the Moderna vaccine, noted that, "As of this writing, no correlate of protection for SARS-CoV-2 has been established¹⁶." This was a mere two weeks prior to Moderna's aforementioned press release.

NONE of these official sources seem to inspire much confidence, do they? But yet, it's safe and effective, unless you read their own documentation that states the safety and effectiveness haven't been established. Doublespeak, anyone? Consider that this is the company that somehow produced a vaccine for an allegedly "novel" coronavirus in just a few weeks. Does this sound remotely reasonable? Either they had been working on it for a much longer time, which would make this entire thing a manufactured event, or they rushed it into trials with little testing.

The most frightening aspect of companies like Moderna is their incredible hubris. On their website, they literally try to convince you of the similarity between DNA/mRNA and computers, calling their mRNA "medicines" the "Software of Life¹⁷." As a computer programmer, I can tell you for a fact that unless you are FULLY aware of ALL of the variables involved, your program is destined to fail at some point. And there is simply no way that they can possibly know how everyone's bodies will react to changes made or otherwise "programmed." A better analogy would be humanity trying to reverse engineer an extraterrestrial UFO thousands of years more advanced. We are teenagers that think we know everything when we actually know very little. It's the new nuclear bomb.

Finally, let's examine the inexplicable disappearance of the flu this season¹⁸. The media would like you to believe it's because we are wearing masks. However, if the flu can be eradicated by wearing masks, why not the imaginary COVID, as well? In actuality, this is a good time to apply Occam's Razor. The flu disappeared because it is simply being rebranded as COVID-19. End of story.

Think about it, boys and girls. The CDC hasn't isolated the virus, their own documents state that their detection methods for infection can't be trusted, their magical vaccine was created in record time and yet "no correlate of protection has been established," and somehow, the flu, which has been with us without pause for at least hundreds of years, mysteriously decided to disappear this season. This whole thing is a con and a fraud of massive proportions.

Recently, on 28 Feb 2021, a dozen European doctors wrote a letter¹⁹ to the executive director of the European Medicines Agency requesting evidence of vaccine safety on specific concerns that should have been addressed in pre-clinical animal models. If testing evidence is not available, they foresee the potential for such things as bleeding disorders to result. They note their belief that the approval of the COVID-19 vaccines by the EMA was premature and reckless and constituted “human experimentation” – a violation of the Nuremberg Code. The document was signed by more than 50 doctors. It’s interesting that we don’t hear anything about such dissenting science on the lamestream media.

And who has benefited from this scamdemic? The elite, of course. U.S. billionaire wealth grew by $1.3 TRILLION over the 11 months since the shutdowns began²⁰. And do you think it’s just the country’s 664 billionaires raking in the dough? Nope. China created more billionaires than every other country combined – 259²¹. Isn’t that where this whole thing began? Things that make you go, “Hmmm.” And, heck, Moderna alone will be paid at least $2.48 billion to combat something that very likely doesn’t even exist – except as Influenza A and Influenza B. It’s kinda like the banks creating money out of thin air backed by nothing other than your faith – itself a cult all its own.

Even worse, CBS News 60 Minutes program recently reported that the Chinese government is trying to collect the DNA of Americans²². In particular, BGI Group, the world’s largest genomics company, has been linked to not only the Chinese military (People’s Liberation Army), but also to the Bill and Melinda Gates Foundation²³. Mr. Gates was, of course, one of the primary voices pushing for vaccinations. Apparently, fascism is alive and well in China with business and the state working together for a common goal. Intriguingly, a recent Reuters article²⁴ stated that the U.S. government was warned by an expert panel that, “[A]dversary countries and non-state actors might find and target genetic weaknesses in the U.S. population and a competitor such as China could use genetics to augment the strength of its own military personnel.” Unfortunately, the article also mentions BGI’s chief infectious disease scientist – someone by the name of Chen Weijun – as being among the first to allegedly sequence COVID-19. Unfortunately, his name is not one of the 19 authors of the genome as published. So, is this all nothing more than another mind game or is data mining the way to win the wars of the future. Do you think maybe we’re in the middle of a war right now – a war being fought without bombs or bullets but with computers and science and a manipulation of the mind? If so, would you even know the good from the bad?

But suppose I’m wrong. Suppose COVID does exist. Do you realize that there are effective treatments for whatever it is that might be floating around out there? Both Ivermectin and Hydroxychloroquine are safe and effective against this so-called coronavirus, with the latter being a drug in use for decades and decades. And yet, Hydroxychloroquine has been viscously maligned in the press and by organizations like the WHO. But that is starting to change. A recent study showed Hydroxychloroquine to be effective in treating mildly symptomatic COVID-19²⁵. But yet again, a few weeks later, the WHO reinforced their tired narrative and advised not to use it, linking it with Trump and effectively ignoring the science²⁶. You really need to ask yourself why they are so insistent that you disregard something proven safe for decades while taking an experimental vaccine instead.

Do the members of the Cult of COVID realize that they have blindly volunteered to be injected with what is likely an experimental gene therapy? Is it just semantics? This so-called vaccine has not been approved and is only being used under an emergency use authorization, making the recipients, effectively, lab rats. Not only that, do you realize that by utilizing specially coated mRNA, they have, in effect, created their own virus to sneak past your body’s defenses and invade your cells where it is supposed to generate a spike protein to elicit an immune response? That’s right, boys and girls. Could the only virus here be the vaccine itself? Could it actually be a Trojan Horse? This is the first time they’ve ever done something like this and there is no known data regarding the long-term effects. There has NEVER been a successful vaccine against a coronavirus. All of the drug companies conveniently have immunity from any sort of legal recourse should you become ill. And, really, think about it for a second. They are in business to make money. They have no vested interest in curing anyone. They make their money from treating illnesses. Why would they possibly want to cure you? That's like going to buy a car that will last for the rest of your life. Can't you just see that so-called "doctor" on TV – you know, the one that looks and sounds like a car salesman – trying to sell you one of those? Do you really think the auto companies would do that? No, they make their money off the service department, don't they? They engineer their cars to deliberately take hours and hours and hours to fix. Planned obsolescence is built in. Do you somehow believe that Big Pharma is any different? Do you insanely believe they are a loving parent that only wants the best for you and would only give you something that was proven "safe and effective?" Apparently, you miss all those commercials from ambulance-chasing lawyers seeking to sue drug makers for past mistakes.

Well, at least the CDC is prepared should something go terribly wrong. After all, they have a document on zombie preparedness on their website, just in case²⁷...

"Those who can make you believe absurdities can make you commit atrocities." – Voltaire

Based on the evidence, in my humble opinion, this whole COVID thing is a con. The vaccine is the ultimate Trojan Horse. Put it all together and you should be terrified by what they want you to take.

Science? Yeah, right. It's just the Cult of COVID...
